A Little About Us

This is certainly not required reading, but if you're curious about me and what inspired the creation of this cozy apartment, please feel free to read on! ?

For about ten years in my twenties, I had the fantastic opportunity to live abroad, working and traveling as a tour guide and travel manager in some of the most beautiful places in the world, like Egypt, Tunisia, Israel, and the lovely Greek islands, to name a few. My adventures took me as far as South Korea, and through it all, I learned that the world is truly filled with stunning places to explore.

However, as time passed, I missed my home country. Then, I was lucky enough to meet my wonderful husband, and together we became a family with two naughty boys, which meant more frequent trips to our Hungarian Sea, named Lake Balaton ?

Rediscovering the beauty of this region has been a joy - those breathtaking lake views, the shimmering waters, and the charming towns along the shoreline create a magical atmosphere. The calm, shallow

beaches of Siófok

are perfect for sunbathing, especially when you have children. Meanwhile, Tihany's enchanting

on the lake is an experience as the sky's colors reflect on the water. Don't miss out on exploring the

, where you can enjoy the flavors of Hungarian wines. And of course, trying fresh fish dishes and a slice of traditional chimney cake is a must!

I could go on sharing more about the charm of Balaton, but now it's your turn to discover its magic!

Throughout your stay, I hope you get to taste the essence of this beautiful region. My role is to provide you with a comfy home - cool or warm if that's what you prefer - where you can relax after a fun day. The adventures and experiences you gather here will be entirely yours to remember ?

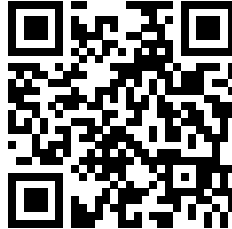

Rest assured, I'm just a message away if you need assistance!

So, let the adventure begin! ?

Fun Facts About Lake Balaton

Fun Facts About Lake Balaton

Here are some fascinating facts about this Central European gem:

Dimensions

Lake Balaton is the largest lake in Central Europe, stretching an impressive 77 km in length. Its narrowest point is at Tihany, measuring just 1.5 km wide, while the widest stretch between Balatonvilágos and Balatonalmádi reaches 12.7 km. Altogether, the lake covers about 600 km². The deepest spot lies in the Tihany Gorge, plunging 11–12.5 meters.

Water Volume

The lake holds approximately 1,800 million m³ of water. Remarkably, the entire volume refreshes every 2.2 years, supported by a 5,774 km² drainage basin.

Lively Waves

Balaton is surprisingly dynamic for a lake! Its shallow depth and warm summer temperatures allow winds to quickly form waves. They can become steep, with the highest recorded at 1.82 meters near the shore and 1.95 meters in deeper areas. Once the wind calms, the surface usually smooths out within about two hours.

Sunshine

The region enjoys around 2,000 hours of sunshine per year, with June being the brightest month. Summer brings only about 5–6 cloudy days on average. August and September tend to be the driest — perfect for sunseekers!

Forecasting

Storm forecasting at Lake Balaton has a long history, officially beginning in 1934 thanks to the efforts of Flight Colonel Alfréd Hille.

Eel Haven

The lake is home to one of Europe's oldest eel populations. A 2010 study revealed that the average age of eels living here is around 24.9 years — quite extraordinary!

Swan Lake

Balaton's reed beds provide vital nesting grounds for many waterbirds. The mute swan ("b?tykös hattyú"), the largest bird on the lake, often raises its chicks along the shoreline, delighting visitors who stop to watch or feed them.

Crossing History

Organized swimming in Hungary began here. On August 29, 1880, Kálmán Szekrényessy famously swam across the lake from Siófok to Balatonfüred. This date is now celebrated as the birthday of Hungarian swimming.

A Bit of Chemistry

People often describe Balaton's water as silky and soothing. With a pH of about 8.4 and a unique mineral composition, it offers a truly pleasant swimming experience.

Location

Lake Balaton spans three counties — Somogy, Zala, and Veszprém — forming the Lake Balaton Priority Resort Area, which includes 179 charming settlements.

We hope these fun facts inspire you to explore everything Lake Balaton has to offer! ??
